A dramatic illustration of the Ten Commandments. Two large, dark brown stone tablets stand upright, each inscribed with five commandments in white. The tablets are set against a background of intense, orange and yellow flames that wrap around the stones. In the foreground, the lower portion of a person's head and shoulders are visible, looking upwards towards the tablets. The overall atmosphere is one of divine revelation and power.
